
R & D Technologist

You are hereby invited to apply for the above vacancy

Responsibilities:

- Responsible for the technical direction and product development strategy for current and new mining products.
- Technical management of engineering improvements of ECP's.
- Calibration and testing of Reutech Mining systems.
- Draft new training material for operator training.
- Draft new training material for technician training.
- Provide technical training to new and existing technicians.
- Provide technical training to new and existing distributors.
- Ad- hoc tasks as required by position.

Required Education & Experience:

- B.Tech or equivalent.
- Technical writing qualification.
- Computer programming qualification and/or proven experience.
- Minimum 5 years relevant working experience.
- Understanding of System Engineering processes.
- Radar experience (Advantageous).
- Proficient in MS Office packages.

Competencies & Behaviours:

- Excellent communications skills, fluent in English (verbal and written).
- A team player but can also work on your own, proactively.
- Good interpersonal skills to relate to clients and advise distributors.
- Physically fit and able to travel and perform duties under mine site conditions and requirements.
- Ability to plan and organise.
- Problem assessment and decision making.
- Confidence and decisiveness.
- Ability to build and maintain relationships.
- Ability to be stress tolerant.
- Ability to coach.

Start Date: ASAP

Please submit your CV to Brunique Cyster at bruniqued@reutech.co.za